

Community Paramedicine
Remote Patient Monitoring.

Better Health At Home.

Stay safe at home... it's easy!

The Community Paramedicine Remote Patient Monitoring (CPRPM) is an initiative of Community Paramedics that uses remote patient monitoring (RPM) technology to help people with chronic illnesses, such as Congestive Heart Failure (CHF), Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) and Diabetes, among other chronic conditions better self-manage their care and stay safe in the comfort of their home and out of the hospital.

- Learn to better manage your Chronic Health Condition so you can enjoy improved quality of life in the comfort of your home
- Experience coordinated care among your Care Team, which could include your doctor, nurses, personal support workers, family members, and others. Feel connected to your health care team with follow up calls and home visits
- Detect and address potential complications with your chronic health condition so you won't have to call 911 and can avoid unnecessary visits to the ER.
- Get the Right Care in the Right Place at the Right Time. Let your Health Care System work efficiently for you.

Our Goal is to keep you safely in the comfort of your own home

"The remote monitoring program has brought peace of mind not only to our clients but to their family members. They take comfort in knowing that there is a paramedic they can connect with who is monitoring their readings daily and touching base with them."

~ Cathie, Paramedic ~
